Domestic Services: Find Your Shipping Zone

Use the postal code groups (letters) of origin and destination obtained in the previous step to find your shipping zone in the following table. Where the row cross (origin postal code group) and column (destination postal code group) is a number. This number will be used in the next step to determine your rate.

When you identify the number of your shipping zone in the table, continue with the next step, depending on the service selected.

International Services: Clearance Services

FedEx offers standard customs clearance, however, we also offer a comprehensive range of value-added solutions when your shipment has special clearance needs. Our Clearance-related Services offerings, including standard customs clearance, may be different per country/territory depending on any additional processing required by a local regulatory agency or when you or your importer request special processing, including from our customs broker, where applicable. We may assess a service fee to obtain the release of your shipment from any regulatory agency or for special services you may request. We may charge a fee for standard customs clearance service in some countries/territories or in some FedEx subsidiaries. These service fees, are subject to change, and may be applied and billed to any shipper, recipient or designated third party.

Fees related to Clearance Services that are incurred will be listed on your Invoice under Government fees, duty and tax and other charges invoiced as separate line items under FedEx Express Ancillary Charges.

Please refer to the website link listed below to view the services offered in the destination country/territory where FedEx provides various Clearance Services:

Shipping with FedEx: Calculate the Rate

1

Find the zone for your destination

- Use the shipping zone number assigned in the table to identify your service rate
- Zone table for Domestic services
- Zone table for International services (for both Export and Import)

2

Determine the chargeable weight

- Determine the weight of the package (for FedEx Express International shipments, determine the weight of the total shipment). Round up to the next-higher number
- For Dimensional Weight, see here for instruction to calculate the rate
- Your chargeable weight is the greater of the actual weight or the dimensional weight

3

Find your rate

- Turn to the appropriate rate table for FedEx Express Domestic shipments, FedEx Express International Export shipments and FedEx Express International Import shipments
- Choose a FedEx service. See here for Domestic services and here for International services
- Find your chargeable weight from step 2 to determine your rate

4

Determine fees

- Services, additional fees, discounts and other non-transportation charges that may apply to any of your shipments.
- See here for Domestic Surcharges
- See here for International Surcharges and Ancillaries

Shipping with FedEx: Calculate Dimension Weight (DIM)

Dimension Weight Rate Calculate for Your Shipments

The rate calculation according to the dimensional weight applies to each shipment packed by the customer. The FedEx packaging may also be subject to price calculation depending on dimensional weight. If the dimensional weight exceeds the actual weight, may be calculated based on dimensional weight.

Calculate Dimensional Weight

- Measure the length*, the width and the height of your package in centimeters.
- Find the volume and divide by 5,000 to get the dimensional weight in kilograms. Round fractions to the next full digit.
- If the dimensional weight exceeds the actual weight of the package, dimensional weight is used to calculate your rate.

* The length is defined as the longest side of the object or package. The circumference is calculated by taking twice the width plus twice the height of the object or package.

$$\text{Dimensional weight factor} = \frac{\text{Length} \times \text{Width} \times \text{Height}}{5,000} = \text{Kilograms}$$

Length and Girth for Your Domestic Shipments

Calculate the Length and Girth

The length is defined as the longest side of the object or package. The formula of the circumference is calculated by taking twice the width plus twice the height of the object or package:

$$\text{Formula L \& C} = \text{Length} + 2(\text{Width}) + 2(\text{Height})$$

Maximum of length and girth combined: 130 inches (330 cm).
