Disclaimer: The FedEx Wine Shipping Solution Guide identifies the most popular destination countries to which FedEx Express agrees to accept legal shipments of wine as well as basic documentation requirements applicable for wine. This guide is valid as of 1 September 2023 and is provided solely as a reference for shippers. The terms of shipping are governed by the FedEx Service Guide, Standard Conditions of Carriage, Terms and Conditions on the Air Waybill and any applicable Rate Agreement. The shipper is responsible for knowing and complying with all applicable laws and regulations in the origin and destination countries. The shipper is further responsible for determining whether the shipper and recipient meet all applicable requirements, and whether the shipment may be legally transported by a common carrier.

International Wine Shipping Basics

When shipping wine internationally, there are some basic requirements that are applicable regardless of the destination country. These basic requirements are as follows:

- 1. FedEx International Air Waybill: An International Air Waybill (AWB) is required for each shipment.
- 2. Commercial invoice: When shipping wine to any international destination, the commercial or pro forma invoice needs to be very specific. This rule applies to both personal and commercial shipments. Many countries around the world charge duties based on the type of wine and alcohol content. The following information should be clearly indicated on the commercial invoice to avoid custom clearance delays:
 - Quantity (e.g. 2 bottles)
 - Quantity measurement in liters (e.g. 750ml)
 - Producer
 - Vintage
 - Wine type where applicable (i.e. Red/White, Still/Sparkling)
 - Percentage of alcohol by volume (e.g. 13%)
 - Unit value per bottle, preferably in South African Rand, but any currency can be used
 - Total value in South African Rand or the currency or the currency used per unit
 - Purpose of exportation - “For Personal use” or “Gift” or “Commercial” or “Sample” as appropriate
 - For sample shipments, please indicate “samples only, not for resale and no commercial value” on the invoice
- 3. Additional documentation: Shipping to some destinations or for commercial shipments, you may be required to complete and provide additional documentation. Please refer to the country-specific requirements provided in this guide.

FedEx® Electronic Trade Documents (ETD)

FedEx® Electronic Trade Documents (ETD) is an international shipping solution that allows you to submit your Customs documentation¹ electronically, saving you paper, energy, printing costs².

Benefits of using ETD:

Upload documents quickly. Simply upload your own documents or use FedEx generated trade documents.

Save time and money with less hard copy handling. There's no need to manually sign, fold, insert and attach the paperwork to each shipment.

Peace of mind. With pre-clearance assistance and proactive customer help, you get a head start with customs clearance and prevent potential delays.

¹ Customs documentation may include but not limited to commercial invoice and packing list.

² For markets where EWO (Electronic With Originals) is applicable, hard copies of Customs documents are required by Customs. You can find “EWO” mark on the printed Air Waybill. For EWO markets, please view details at: https://www.fedex.com/content/dam/fedex/us-united-states/services/Commercial_Invoice_Country_List.pdf
